Bluebell Concept [trail strategies + boardwalk + soft path]

Bluebell is identified as a fresh water forest wetland area by the Fish and Wildlife Service therefore the design must be sensitive to the natural processes and dynamic river function taking place in and around the site.

With a primary boardwalk walking loop and secondary soft trail, Bluebell will cater to a variety of visitors.

Life Cycle of Freshwater Mussels

The ecological processes locally and on site are important to highlight as the continuing directions for St. Paul: eco-tourism & education.
